

Group short term disability insurance (STD)

Employee need

Nine out of 10 workers underestimate their chance of becoming disabled.¹

Most disabling injuries occur off the job and are not covered by workers' compensation.²

The overall satisfaction rating among individuals submitting a short term disability claim with Unum averages 92% — exceeding the industry average.³

Unum's group STD insurance includes plan choices and solutions for most employer and employee needs, including a variety of earnings definitions, income replacement percentages, benefit maximums and elimination periods. The STD coverage integrates easily with our long term disability insurance to provide comprehensive income protection with maximized disability management and return-to-work support through early intervention.

Unum short term disability advantages

- Choice of employer paid, shared contributions or employee paid
- Benefit duration of nine to 52 weeks
- Up to 70% income replacement
- Maximum benefit up to $2,500 per week (based on industry, average salaries and plan type)
- Choice of elimination periods of 0/7, 7/7, 14/14 or 30/30
- No pre-existing condition exclusion or limitation on employer-paid plans — employees are covered from coverage effective date
- Plan designs for small to large employers — 2 to 10,000+ employees
- Seamless coordination with LTD for longer duration disabilities — automatically transitions from STD to LTD with no additional claim form
- Covers maternity and integrates with workers' compensation and SSDI programs
- Does not standardly offset an employer's salary continuation program (formal or informal)
- Statutory plans available in states requiring coverage — including disability benefits law (DBL) in New York, temporary disability benefit (TDB) in New Jersey, temporary disability insurance (TDI) in Hawaii and voluntary disability income (VDI) in California
